If you are inside Australia at the time you are applying you select "No" here.

A "substantive visa" is any visa other than a bridging visa i.e. if you hold a visitor, working holiday, temporary skilled, graduate or student visa - these are OK and you should answer "Yes".
If you are outside Australia or do not hold a substantive visa select "No".

If you are inside Australia at the time you are applying for the partner visa you will select "Subclass 820 & Subclass 801"
If you are outside Australia at the time you are applying for the partner visa you will select "Subclass 309 & Subclass 100"

You can click "Save" to save a copy of your application at any time and you should do so after completing every page.
Click "Previous" to go back to the previous screen.

If the visa applicant came to Australia on a prospective marriage visa also known as a Fiancé visa, then you should answer "Yes" and provide the details then requested.
If you never came to Australia on a prospective marriage visa or a Fiancé visa then you should answer "No".
